'DESPERAT FEARS FO

He wants her to have cancer surgery NOW, but she's holding out for ANOTHER baby!

DESPITE a recent double mastectomy and desperate pleas from husband Brad Pitt, Angelina Jolie wants to hold off on having cancer surgery in the hope of having one more child!

"The surgery would be a preventative step that she's already told the press she will take," a source close to the couple told The National ENQUIRER exclusively. "But now she's put the brakes on it."

The 39-year-old mom of six also has been pushing off removing her ovaries, because her children are terrified for her to go under the knife again, friends said.

"Her kids were extremely disturbed by the impact her double mastectomy had," said the source. "She had tons of tubes in her and couldn't even get out of bed."

The thought of mommy getting "cut up" again is really terrifying them, the insider added.

"They've been saying, 'Mommy, please don't go to the hospital again,'" the source said. "They're petrified that she won't get off the operating table."

At the same time, the Oscar winner also hears her biological clock ticking, insiders revealed.

Brad and Angie's house is already packed with Maddox, 13, Pax, 11, Zahara, 10, Shiloh, 8, and their 6-year-old twins, Knox and Vivienne – but Angie is convinced that having another child will strengthen her marriage.

"She and Brad spend so little time together because of their careers," according to one insider. "She feels that a final baby before she turns 40 would somehow give them the romantic restart she yearns for."

And while Brad appreciates the romance of the gesture, friends said he is more concerned with his wife's health. Her mother, Marcheline Bertrand, died of ovarian cancer at age 56, and Brad wants to do everything possible to prevent Angelina from suffering the same fate!

"BRAD IS DESPERATE for Angelina to have the surgery," said the source. "He wants her to see the bigger medical picture."

Brad understands that his wife turns 40 soon – on June 4 – but he thinks even a few months could make the difference between life or death.

"He loves his children but believes six are sufficient," the insider said. "He doesn't think that it's worth risking her life to have another child. But she keeps saying 'a few months won't make a difference.'"

Brad, however, has dug in his heels and wants her to have the surgery sooner rather than later.

"Brad was around when Angie's mom died," the source said. "He can't bear the thought of the same thing happening to his wife!"

Reese's in pieces!

REESE Witherspoon is ranting over ex-hubby Ryan Phillippe, with her former husband living a Lothario lifestyle that could be corrupting their kids!

Even Ryan's neighbors are concerned about the star's partying ways, sources exclusively told The National ENQUIRER.

The couple has two children – Deacon, 11, and Ava, 15 – from a marriage that flamed out in 2006 after Ryan soiled the wedding sheets with blonde beauty Abbie Cornish.

“There’s lots of conflict between Reese and Ryan about the kids – especially Deacon, and what he’s exposed to when he’s at Ryan’s home,” our insider dished.

Ever since his split from his Oscar-winning wife, the “Secrets and Lies” star has gone through a conga line of young girls – including baby mamma Alexis Knapp, with whom he has a daughter. The 40-year-old dad isn’t slowing down, either, with Ryan dating 24-year-old model Paulina Slagter!

“So now he’s got this kid out of wedlock, and his son, Deacon, is perpetually freaked out about it, and Ryan’s been plowing through 25-year-old model after 25-year-old model,” our source divulged.

Reese, 38, shares custody of her children with Ryan, and tries to raise the children in the same kind of stable upbringing that she enjoyed while growing up in Nashville.

Meanwhile, her ex-husband has gone public with his battle with depression, saying that it’s “been a huge obstacle.” The insider told The ENQUIRER: “Ryan has all the characteristics of being bipolar. If you catch him on a ‘good day’ emotionally, he can be a prince of a guy – but his mood swings have made life hard for those around him.”

The former couple's son, Deacon, has had a difficult time dealing with his father's behavior

Nicole to be a mom again – at 47!

NICOLE Kidman is willing to use in vitro fertilization to make her dream of becoming a mom again happen, according to insiders.

The 47-year-old “Eyes Wide Shut” star and husband Keith Urban have been having serious talks with Beverly Hills fertility experts since late last year, close pals told The National ENQUIRER exclusively.

“At her age, Nic views IVF treatments as a last throw of the dice,” said a pal. “They’re both eagerly hoping for some happy news.”

Nicole and her “American Idol” judge hubby, also 47, already have two girls together, Sunday Rose, 6, and 4-year-old Faith Margaret.

Nicole also has two older kids with ex-hubby Tom Cruise.

Doctors told Nicole there’s no reason she can’t have another baby at her age. And friends said Nicole has been telling everyone that she’s ready!

The Australian power couple has been dogged by rumors of marriage problems, but friends said the baby idea has helped. “It’s really brought them to a very good place in their relationship,” said one pal.

Still, the biological clock is ticking.

“It’s now or never if they are going to have another baby – and it’s what they want more than anything.”

The couple have been married since 2006 and have two daughters

An eyewitness told The ENQUIRER that Neil “dragged” his child; the star’s lawyer said he carried him ... you be the judge

HARRIS: THE DAD

His face contorted in anger, Neil Patrick is seen manhandling his son

THESE are the shocking photos Neil Patrick Harris doesn’t want you to see! In a fit of rage on a cold New York morning, the Oscars host is snapped in the midst of a temper tantrum directed at one of his adorable 4-year-old twins – and is seen dragging the toddler by one arm down a steep set of icy cement steps!

The troubling photos were taken on March 3, outside the Harlem townhouse that the former “Doogie Howser, M.D.” actor shares with his gay partner David Burtka.

Without his husband or a nanny present, the 41-year-old entertainer appeared to be getting Gideon and Harper off to school – but the star suffered a meltdown, and onlookers said they were horrified by his “outrageous” parental behavior!

Said one spectator: “I was scared for the poor little boy because of the way Neil was acting – it was completely out of character. He had turned into the daddy from hell!”

ACCORDING TO THE eyewitness, Neil barked at his kids to come down the stoop to the street below – a steep incline of 12 cement steps.

Explained the source: “Normally, as a parent, you’d want to hold your child’s hand and help them navigate down the steps – but Neil didn’t do that. He went ahead of them.

“Harper scampered down to join her dad without incident – but her brother appeared to need extra coaxing.

“Neil was very impatient – and when Gideon was slowly plodding along, reaching to about the fourth step down, Neil angrily shot back up and roughly grabbed a hold of his little boy’s arm. He dragged the kid the rest of the way down.

“Neil had a jawlike grip on the child, causing him to cry. But he still yelled at him to hurry up!”

Once on the sidewalk, Neil – carrying a shopping bag and holding a coffee – quickly began walking down the street, leaving both children behind!

“Gideon was still crying, but Neil didn’t seem to care. He wasn’t looking back at the kids, who were walking dangerously close to the curb of the busy street,” said the eyewitness,

'Mr. Harris was merely disciplining his child'

IN A response about the incident directly to The ENQUIRER, Neil Patrick Harris has said he did nothing wrong. His lawyer Martin Singer said the star was simply "trying to get his 4-year-old twins into the car to take them to school," adding: "His son was misbehaving and refusing to walk to the car so Mr. Harris lifted him and carried him to the bottom of the steps."

Singer continued: "Mr. Harris did not drag Gideon down the steps, or injure him in any way ... Mr. Harris was merely disciplining his child, as any responsible parent would do."

"Taking one's child by the arm to direct his or her movements is much less severe than administering a spanking to the child."

adding that the children finally caught up to him and he hustled them into a waiting town car.

FOR HIS PART, Neil has disputed the account. But The ENQUIRER showed photos of Neil's bizarre behavior to a series of experts, who characterized the star's actions as "disturbing."

Dr. Gilda Carle, a nationally known psychotherapist who specializes in family relationships, said: "From what I see, Neil used some force to drag the youngster down the snowy steps. In a worst case, the action could have caused the dislocation of his child's shoulder socket – or the child could have easily fallen.

"Instead of calmly comforting the child and trying to coax him along, Neil wasn't acting responsibly as a parent and further walked ahead of them. They were completely left unsupervised."

Body language expert Dr. Lillian Glass said: "These disturbing pictures of Neil clearly show that at times he may not be a loving and nurturing father."

And Dr. Robert Melillo, author of "Disconnected Kids and Reconnected Kids," agreed that he found Neil's behavior upsetting based on the photos.

WITH THIS KIDNEY, I THEE WED!

REAL LIFE

Organ donor to marry the man whose life she saved!

AFTER Danny Robinson and fiancée Ashley McIntyre tie the knot, every argument will end with her saying, “But I gave you my kidney!”

That’s because the bride and groom-to-be met when Ashley decided to donate an organ to a total stranger!

While their love story has a fairy-tale ending, it began during a dark time in Danny’s life.

In January 2014, Ashley overheard her mother and grandmother discussing Danny’s story, which they’d heard on a local radio talk show in Louisville, Ky.

Danny, then 25, had been suffering from kidney problems since age 16. His house burned down on Christmas Day in 2011, and about a year later his father died of brain cancer.

He’d been in full kidney failure and on dialysis for two years. His family had done the radio interview in hopes of finding a donor.

Touched by his tale, Ashley

After Ashley learned of Danny’s health woes, she decided to go through the many tests it takes to determine whether she was a donor match volunteered to be a donor and was soon going through a slate of medical tests to see if she was a match.

Those seemingly endless tests turned out to be the first sign that Ashley and Danny make a seriously compatible couple.

Only 1 percent of living kidney donations come from strangers, but Ashley kept breezing her way through the tests.

In the end, she was a perfect match, but Ashley delayed meeting Danny face-to-face until shortly before the transplant surgery.

The two finally sat down with their mothers at a Cheesecake Factory restaurant in March 2014. “As soon as we started talking, it was like our families had known each other forever,” said Ashley.

Danny – whose immune system attacked his kidneys, preventing them from properly filtering blood and removing toxins – had the transplant surgery in April.

Afterward, Ashley and Danny continued to chat on the phone and exchange texts.

Then they got together at a Memorial Day barbecue, and decided to go to ... well, whatever the next level is after two people have shared a kidney!

“As soon as we started dating, not long after that was when we realized – this was it,” said Ashley.

She’s expecting their first child, a daughter, in June, and accepted Danny’s wedding proposal on Christmas Day.

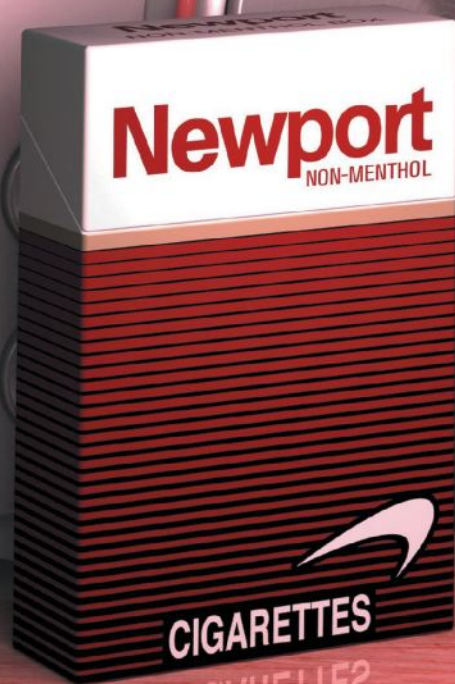

Ashley remains impressed with how she found love in a very intimate way.

And she added: “Danny’s going to be a great dad.”

'Young & Restless' star in MURDER DRAMA!

Kristoff hires Jacko's lawyer to fight hospital over son's 'suicide'

Attorney Mark Geragos intends to prove Julian's real cause of death

STAR of "The Young and the Restless" Kristoff St. John and his ex-wife, boxer Mia, believe their mentally troubled son was murdered – and they've hired a high-powered trial attorney to prove it!

Julian St. John, 24, who had battled schizophrenia, drugs and alcohol, was a patient at La Casa Psychiatric Health Facility in Long Beach, Calif., when he was found dead in a bathroom with a bag over his head on Nov. 23.

"Julian had no illegal drugs or alcohol in his system when he died," said Michael Jackson's former attorney Mark Geragos, who is filing a wrongful death suit for the family. "If he had been properly monitored by La Casa staffers, he would still be alive."

The facility ruled the death a suicide, but "we believe this was not suicide," a family source told the website RadarOnline.com. "He was murdered."

Mark told The National ENQUIRER exclusively: "Julian called his mother shortly before his death and said another patient might kill him. Then he was found dead."

After video footage was uncovered of Julian returning to his room after making the call, followed by other people "going in and out of his room," L.A. detectives reopened the case.

"Once the case is filed with the Superior Court, 'discovery' will kick in and the hospital will have to turn over the video and crime-scene evidence," Hollywood private eye Paul Huebl, who is not working the case, explained to The ENQUIRER.

Paul said Mark will then have access to police files, patient and staff interviews, social media and phone records.

"Geragos will also get autopsy records to determine whether Julian's body showed he was in a fight, and whether someone else's DNA was under his fingernails."

Mark added: "Julian entered the facility to get better, not to end his life."

Judith Oakes has been sentenced to five years in prison for raiding the coffers of the school lunch programs in the Rialto Unified School District. The employee had been preparing a life of luxury for herself by lifting cash out of school moneybags before they were stashed away in a safe.

to think she could get past the security cameras. An internal security report released after her arrest stated: "Ms. Oakes was involved with the Oakes was arrested on Aug. 7, 2013, with authorities pointing out that she had probably served herself up over $3.1 million since 1999 – but the statute of limitations allowed them to prosecute only for thefts that happened after 2004.

Oakes has paid back $330,000 of the stolen cash and agreed to return the rest of the stolen money at the rate of $150 a month.

At that rate, she'll fully reimburse the Rialto school district in about 800 years!

Harrison for the rest of his life

THIS is Harrison Ford like you have never seen him before. Caked in blood, strapped to a gurney, bandaged and looking close to death.

It's the scene moments after he was pulled from the wreckage of a WW2-era plane that came perilously close to snuffing out the life of one of Hollywood's top film legends.

In a series of blockbuster world exclusive photos, The National ENQUIRER can detail – for the first time – the dramatic incident that confronted first responders on March 5 at the Penmar Golf Course in Venice, Calif., where the “Indiana Jones” star’s 1942 Ryan Aeronautical ST3KR crash landed in a turf-tearing blaze of horror.

But behind his life or death decisions inside the cockpit are a series of haunting secrets that plague the 72-year-old – decisions that ultimately saved his life, marriage and a 49-year

Tinseltown career. The ENQUIRER has learned.

WITH A BROKEN ankle, pelvis and severe head lacerations, an ailing Harrison is now “traumatized,” with some insiders even questioning if the man who made the character Han Solo famous for his space flights in “Star Wars” will ever make a movie again.

“Harrison’s been in dangerous situations before in the air, but this time he almost met his maker,” one close pal confided to The ENQUIRER.

“It’s clear he’s going to be haunted by this crash for his remaining days – and it’s going to leave mental scars worse than the public can ever imagine.”

What’s more, the veteran aviator is also facing an “ultimatum” from his “Ally McBeal” actress wife Calista Flockhart, 50, for the sake of the couple’s adopted 14-year-old son, Liam, according to a friend.

Fed-up Calista wants Harrison to quit flying for the sake of their teenaged son “Calista is thankful that Harrison survived, but she’s ready to tell him, ‘Your flying days are over!’” revealed the insider.

Outraged and shaken, Calista will only be more determined to end her hubby’s joyriding after being confronted with these harrowing photos of the crash that somehow her husband of five years was able to survive!

HARRISON WAS just minutes away from where he’d taken off, Santa Monica Airport, when he had to contact the air control tower with the words that all pilots dread: “Engine failure – immediate return.”

That was right before the engine of his plane began to sputter to a grinding halt – at a tormenting 3,000 feet above ground!

“It’s going down, so you don’t have a lot of time,” aviation expert David Paqua told The ENQUIRER, as he recreated what really happened in those final moments. “You pick a spot to land and deal with it.”

THE FATHER OF FIVE had no more than a minute to execute a difficult “chandelle,” an aviation term for turning at 180 degrees while coaxing the

Christina's in no rush to walk down the aisle, unlike 'insulted' beau Matt

'Marry me – or else!'

CHRISTINA Aguilera's fiancé of one year, Matt Rutler, has given his Grammy-winning girlfriend a shocking ultimatum, sources have revealed to The National ENQUIRER.

"The one-year anniversary of their engagement came on Valentine's Day," said an insider. "But it was hardly romantic with Matt telling Christina that he's going to walk unless they're married by summer's end!"

Christina, 34, met the former production assistant on the set of the movie "Burlesque" in 2010. Now friends say Matt's "sick and tired of waiting for Christina to make the relationship official."

The "What a Girl Wants" singer gave birth to their daughter, Summer Rain, in August. She also has a 7-year-old son, Max, with ex-husband Jordan Bratman.

When asked recently about heading to the altar, the "Beautiful" songbird – who's currently working on her eighth studio album – answered: "Having just moved into a beautiful home, having a baby and being so excited to get back to work on 'The Voice,' I am not in a rush to set a date."

The comment had Matt steaming, according to insiders.

"Matt was totally insulted by Christina's public comments on matrimony," divulged a source.

"He wants a commitment now that they have a daughter. But she says she's too busy with 'The Voice,' recording a new album and producing a new series."

'He wants a commitment now that they have a daughter, but she's too busy'

As The ENQUIRER reported, Christina has put a renewed focus on her image and career, and dropped 40 pounds last year to prove it. But insiders believe Matt thinks he has dropped out of that focus.

"Matt wants the security of marriage, even if that means signing a prenup," said an insider. "They can't stop fighting over when – or if – they'll ever get hitched."

Britney for the SUPER BOWL!

SHE'S won over Las Vegas, and now Britney Spears is ready to gamble on the biggest show of her career – as the pop princess prepares to play the biggest sporting event of the year!

"She's definitely doing a part in the Super Bowl halftime show next year," an industry insider told The National ENQUIRER.

"The details haven't totally been worked out yet, but it will be huge."

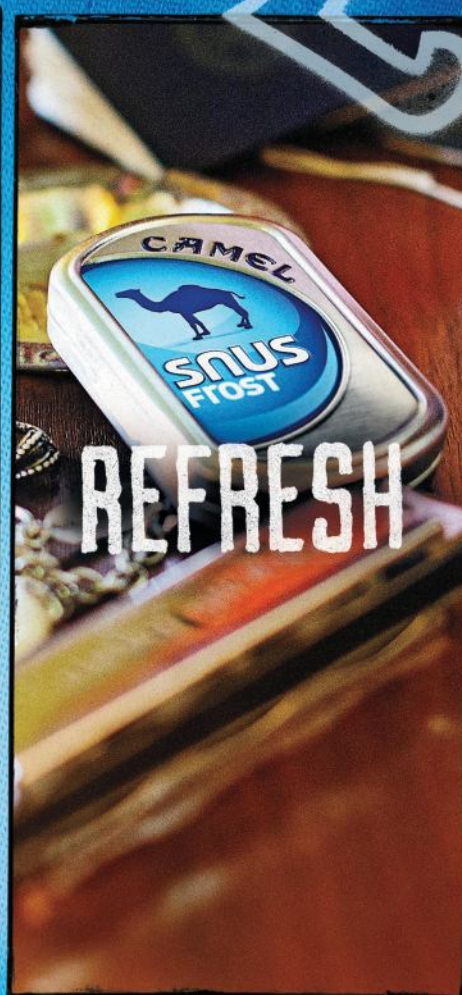

Britney will probably also bring along some famous friends – most likely Miley Cyrus in a very special guest appearance, with the two chart superstars sharing the same management team.

"Vegas has been great for Britney because it's given her her confidence back, but she's ready to reclaim her spot on top," revealed the source.

"Britney's been performing in Vegas and doesn't feel rusty, like she did when the Vegas gig debuted and she was slammed by critics. She wants to do something massive next year and blow everyone away," the insider added.

■ Shocking truths about those gay sex rumors!

DAMNING QUESTIONS TOM'S HAD TO FACE

TOM's fragile public image – carefully maintained over the years by multiple lawsuits – is about to be rocked as his most intimate secrets are brought to life in a new HBO documentary. While the church denies the allegations in the film, “Going Clear: Scientology and the Prison of Belief” will reportedly reveal disturbing details about the church's most twisted practices. The film also addresses Tom's own approving use of wiretaps, with an ex-member detailing how Nicole Kidman's phone lines were tapped at the actor's request. And there are even more scandals that may be waiting to be revealed in shocking detail...

GAY RUMORS

Tom has long denied rampant rumors about his homosexuality – but ex-Scientists have said the truth would likely be contained in the tapes of his auditing sessions. Tom has also filed several lawsuits to squash sex rumors, and ex-church members believe that Tom's auditing sessions have been deliberately constructed to get the star to discuss his sexual preferences.

DRUGS

Ex-member Amy Scobee wrote in her tell-all that David Miscavige told her that Tom had used drugs. Tom's lawyers vehemently denied the claim, but Amy insisted that Tom was once prevented from entering the church's inner sanctum because of drug use. Former members told The ENQUIRER that Tom would have been quizzed about any past drug use during his auditing sessions.

'S FILE OF SHAME!

ENQUIRER INVESTIGATION EXPOSES THE DIRT DOSSIER OF SHOCKING MAY USE AGAINST HIM ... IF HE EVER TRIES TO LEAVE THE CHURCH

H E'S one of the world's most powerful movie stars – but Tom Cruise is at the mercy of the devious Church of Scientology that is keeping his deepest and darkest secrets in a devastating dossier of dirt.

That's the bombshell claim uncovered by The National ENQUIRER following an exhaustive investigation into the controversial religion and its most prestigious follower.

According to a number of whistle-blowing former Scientologists, the church has a top-secret cache of tapes from Tom's counseling sessions – recorded without his knowledge or consent – that could reveal his most embarrassing private details!

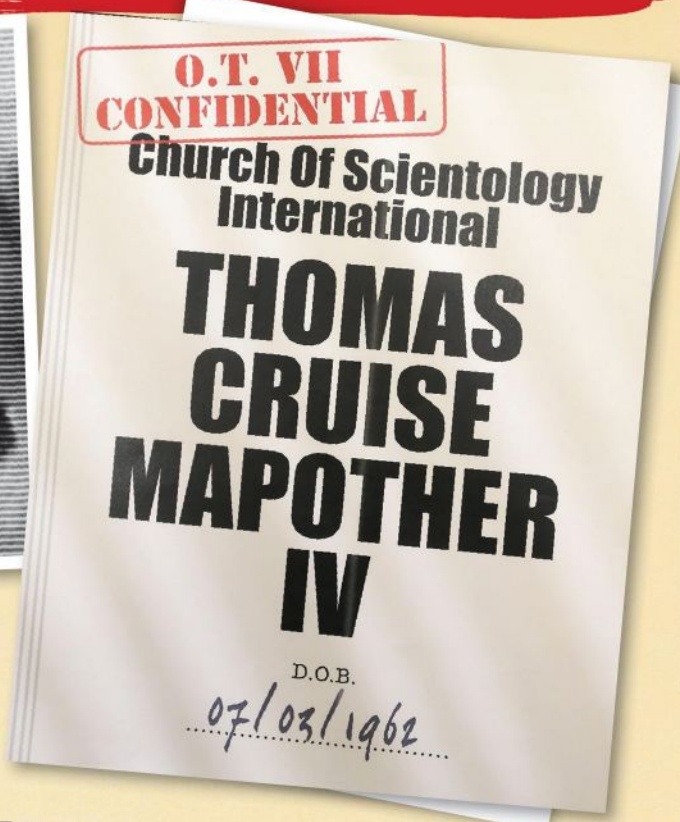

Tom believed that he was confessing his "sins" as part of a series of private counseling sessions known in Scientology as "auditing," which are supposed to have the iron gate of secrecy like a confessional at the Catholic Church.

Instead, the "Top Gun" star was betrayed by secret cameras and recording devices hidden inside the church's Celebrity Centre in Los ►

SHAM MARRIAGES

Tom's marriages to Mimi Rogers, Nicole and Katie Holmes have all provided plenty of gossip about the unions being just business arrangements. Rumors have circulated around Hollywood about Tom's brides negotiating their weddings in terms of a "yearly" commitment. Nobody was surprised when his suddenly serious relationship with Katie materialized out of nowhere.

SURI PATERNITY

The truth about whether Tom is really the father of Katie's daughter, Suri, could be found in recordings of auditing sessions for both Tom and his former wife. Internet gossip about Suri's real parentage swirled after Katie abruptly filed for divorce from Tom – with the "Eyes Wide Shut" star reportedly furious over the allegations that actor Josh Hartnett was the real baby daddy!

BRIDE SHOPPING

Tom also has to worry about Scientology leaders exposing his bizarre process for choosing media-friendly wives. Former high-ranked Scientologist Claire Headley has previously claimed that the church filmed "audition videos" for ambitious and unwitting actresses. That list reportedly included Scarlett Johansson, Jessica Alba and Penélope Cruz [pictured].

BRAIN-WASHING

Mark Rathbun has claimed Scientologists brainwashed Nicole and Tom's adoptive children – Isabella, then 8, and 6-year-old Connor. "They were being indoctrinated, and they were reporting to Tom on how that was going on in my presence," Mark said, adding that the youngsters were told their mom was a "suppressive person" – an individual who is said to have "antisocial personalities."

TOP SECRET

Angeles and at other facilities, a number of ex-parishioners told The ENQUIRER.

"Anything you say in auditing – every single word – is recorded or written down," revealed Claire Headley, who personally supervised Tom's "auditing" sessions after his marriage to Nicole Kidman collapsed in early 2001.

"Very detailed records are kept of anything you say in the session. That includes very personal and very embarrassing information – any transgressions in one's life."

ACCORDING to Claire – who worked directly under leader David Miscavige in the Religious Technology Center at Scientology's California headquarters – the dirt file on Tom began to be assembled in the late '90s.

At the time, the "Mission: Impossible" actor was married to Nicole and reportedly considered leaving the church.

"They use all the information they have on somebody to control them and to their benefit," the high-level defector told The ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview.

David – considered the church's "ecclesiastical" leader – personally gave the order to begin accumulating the recordings, other ex-Scientologists alleged.

Mark Rathbun, who was once Scientology's second highest-ranking executive, had overseen Tom's "intensive" auditing procedures – which according to the church, are designed to clear members of "negative influences."

"I was required by Miscavige to write reports on the content of every session I delivered during that period, and send them directly to Miscavige," said Mark, who ultimately left the church in disgust over the surveillance.

"I was told by him that he needed to know, because recovering Tom to Scientology was the most important 'mission' possible."

SINISTER SECRETS BEHIND AUDITING

IN AN effort to cleanse himself of shameful secrets, Tom Cruise sat with an auditor for hours at secured Scientology facilities, including the Los Angeles-based Celebrity Centre.

There, the movie star would grasp an "E-meter" in a room loaded with cameras and recording devices, ex-church members recounted to The National ENQUIRER.

Scientology auditors claim the E-meter measures the "static field" surrounding the body.

In reality, the machine reacts to the electroconductivity of sweat glands – and is just a tool to get followers like Tom to reveal private details, former Scientologist Jon Atack claimed to The ENQUIRER.

Jon, a London-based expert who penned the 1990 history of Scientology called "A Piece of Blue Sky," said the E-meter can't actually reveal whether a person is telling the truth.

Rather, revealed Jon, it measures how reactive they are to monotonous questions.

Jon explained: "The sessions are designed to find some pressure or 'problems' on your body – and you have conversation based on questions, and the 'Body Satans' will go magically away!"

Based on accounts from Jon and others, The ENQUIRER has recreated what an "auditing" session would have looked like for the actor.

Tom would have gripped the E-meter device, as attached to a needle and graph.

When the needle stopped floating, his auditor would ask if Tom had an "upset,"

Auditing took place within the very private walls of the Celebrity Centre or a "problem," or if he was "withholding something."

The auditor would begin quizzing Tom – a tactic supposedly designed to lead him into confessing his biggest secrets, such as sordid stories about his sex life!

BRADY BUNCH STAR ACCUSED OF SNUBBING SICK DAUGHTER!

Barry Williams 'is not very nice at all,' says little Samantha's grandpa

HERE'S the story ... of a deadbeat daddy!

Aging "Brady Bunch" heartthrob Barry Williams, 60, should "man up" and care for his sickly 2-year-old daughter – said 64-year-old grandpa Thomas Clark, whose stepdaughter Elizabeth is seeking child support from the '70s sitcom star.

"Barry likes to promote the image that he's an all-American family guy. But in reality, he's not very nice at all!" Thomas revealed exclusively to The National ENQUIRER.

He claimed that Barry – who is still best known as Greg Brady – abandoned toddler Samantha, who suffers from complications from her 2012 premature birth.

Barry had fled Hollywood and his new family to launch his "70s Music Celebration!" show in Branson, Mo.

Thomas also charged that

Barry instructed Elizabeth to conceal his parentage so the medical bills would be picked up by the state of California!

"He wouldn't come forward [as the father], so he told Liz what to say, and they racked up well over a million dollars in all the medical expenses – and he has avoided all of that," Thomas told The ENQUIRER.

He further claimed that Barry allowed Elizabeth, 36, and her daughter to be evicted from their home weeks before Christmas.

"He's trying to starve them to death!" he said.

Elizabeth, who contracted a blood disease and is unable to work, had to move into her mother's cramped home.

In court documents, Barry hasn't denied that Samantha is his daughter – but dismissed Elizabeth as nothing more than a "sexual companion."

A lawyer for Barry said his client "has taken care of Samantha since her birth" and denied the accusations.

Another insider insisted that Barry has been consistently paying $900 a month to Elizabeth before their upcoming court date, and blames the baby mama for keeping Samantha away from her dad.

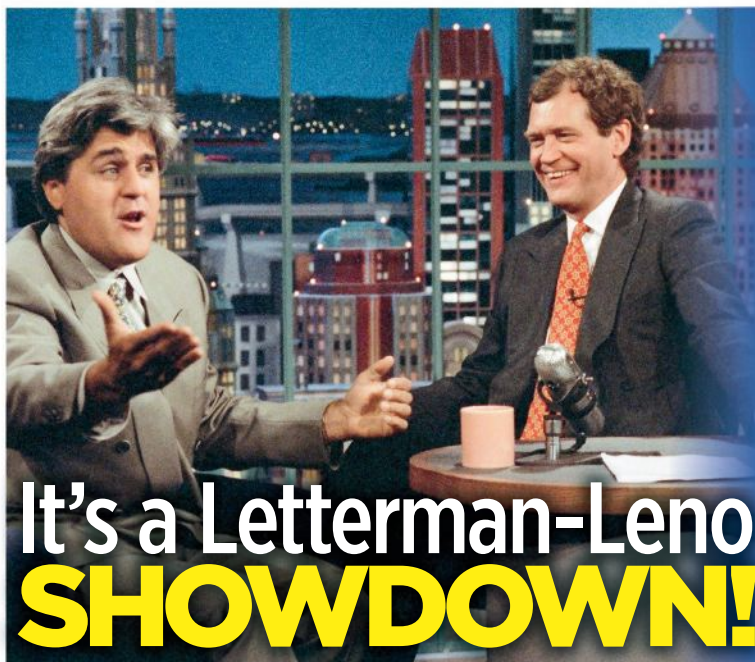

"He tried to keep up the relationship, but she's just not allowing him," the source told The ENQUIRER.

It's a Letterman-Leno SHOWDOWN!

LATE-night rivals David Letterman and Jay Leno may reunite for the end of CBS' "Late Show with David Letterman!"

Dave wants the former "Tonight Show" host as one of his final guests, but decades of bad blood still have to be resolved, The National ENQUIRER has learned.

"There's a hint of shuttle diplomacy here," said an insider. "We're hoping a deal gets done."

Jay was a genial host who rarely mentioned his late-night competition, but a bitter Dave never forgave him for taking over as host of "The Tonight Show."

Dave, 67, considered that a betrayal of both himself – and of Johnny Carson, who had made it clear to Jay that he wanted Dave to take over "The Tonight Show."

Over the years, Dave has viciously mocked Jay from the desk of his CBS show.

Talks between "Late Show" producers and Jay's reps have been ongoing since before Dave announced his retirement last April. A rep for Dave confirmed to The ENQUIRER that "an offer [to Jay] was extended a while back."

In 2014, Jay, 64, reportedly said: "That could happen – why not? It's certainly a possibility. Some of my best moments were doing ['Late Night'] with Dave."

Jay then played coy in January. "I haven't heard that," he said of a "Late Show" invitation.

JONAH!

Pals fear
Hill will end up dead like fellow fat
funnyman
John Candy

O SCAR-nominated actor Jonah Hill has a killer career – but his Hollywood friends are worried the rotund actor is bulking up to a killer weight!

The chubby 31-year-old became a comedy star with roles in the “21 Jump Street” movies and as comic relief to Leonardo DiCaprio in “The Wolf of Wall Street.” But now Jonah is really packing on the pounds, with pals concerned that the film star will keel over like comic legend John Candy – the fat funnyman who died of a heart attack in 1994 at the age of 43.

“Jonah has a long career in front of him, much like John did – if he doesn’t die first,” an insider told The National ENQUIRER.

Jonah has hit an all-time high in his calorie counts and tips the scales at more than 320 pounds – with the big-screen star even requiring a high-capacity specialty scale to see how much he weighs, the friend reported.

Pals are also frustrated because Jonah’s weight has see-sawed the past few years. His “Moneyball” co-star, Brad Pitt, motivated the 5-foot-7 actor to shed 40 pounds from his then-250-pound frame.

But since “Superbad” Jonah’s dramatic makeover in 2011, he’s gained back all the original weight – plus a whole lot more!

Jonah knows he has a weight problem, and even noted the importance of his diet in a 2011 interview, saying: “I wanted to be healthier, and that was the impetus for wanting to lose weight – it’s just about being healthy and feeling good.”

But, his pal said: “The problem with Jonah is he has very little self-control with food.

“He doesn’t really have a favorite food, and he will eat anything if you put it in front of him.”

The source is also troubled that Jonah isn’t motivated to lose weight over romance.

“The fatter he gets, the more women seem to be attracted to him,” explained the source.

Jonah’s past relationships include beauties like Hollywood legend

Dustin Hoffman’s daughter, Ali, and “House of Cards” actress Isabelle McNally – and he has recently been spotted with a sexy new mystery girl.

“He even dated a dietitian for a year and actually gained weight in the relationship,” complained the friend.

“If Jonah doesn’t start losing weight in the next couple of years, he very well could end up like John Candy – DEAD!”

Jonah proved to be a comic heavyweight alongside Brad in “Moneyball,” which earned him the first of two Oscar nominations

HAIR FOR THE HEIR!

Get a transplant, you look too old, Kate orders balding Prince William ENGLAND'S image-conscious Duchess Kate Middleton has issued a royal command to husband and future king Prince William: Get a hair transplant!

"Kate thinks he looks old before his time," dished a longtime confidante of the royal couple. "She wants immediate action."

The 32-year-old heir to the British throne has been losing his hair at a disturbing rate, and Kate is horrified at how it makes him look. "It seems too late for Rogaine or any hair-regrowth treatments," said the source. "Kate says William either needs to get a hair transplant or shave his head completely, so that he looks younger and more dynamic."

But the duchess' demands have led to a royal rumble in Buckingham Palace.

William doesn't think a Vin Diesel-style dome befits the image of a modern monarch, and he's also not keen on any artificial hair-raising on the royal scalp!

"The prince says that he can't have hair plugs because everyone would notice – and he'd get humiliated in the press," said another source.

"He's terrified that he'll become a laughingstock and be mocked by members of the public."

Still, the duchess isn't going to let the future monarch simply ignore the follicle challenge, according to royal insiders.

"She's told Wills to get advice from pals Elton John and TV chef Gordon Ramsay, who have both had hair-transplant surgery to rid them of their baldness," said the source.

And Wills' self-styled image consultant is not stopping at trying to revive the royal hairline, according to insiders.

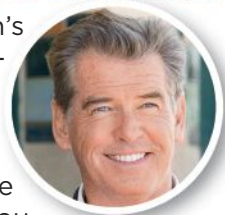

"She's told poor William that he needs a complete style makeover," the source divulged. "He's prepared to listen to Kate on his clothes, but he insists that there's nothing he can do about his hair. As the future king, he has no option but to grow old gracefully. She'll have to like it – or lump it."

BLUBBER-LOVER PIERCE BROSNAN!

PIERCE Brosnan's ever-expanding wife, Keely Shaye Smith, has packed on more than 75 pounds since they met, but the couple has never been closer, according to pals.

"Pierce is as in love with Keely today as the day they met," said an insider. "He still believes she's the sexiest woman in the world."

"Pierce is proud to show her off. He's always grabbing, hugging and kissing her in public."

The former "James Bond" met his bountiful bride on a Mexican beach in 1994, when she was just 31 and weighed 125 pounds.

While Pierce, 61, works out daily to stay in shape to compete for top leading-man roles, pals said he never puts pressure on Keely to do the same.

And when Keely talks about losing weight, friends said Pierce supports her, saying things like, "Honey, if you want to do it ... do it for yourself. I love you just the way you are!"

plane to climb at maximum speed. "It's a difficult maneuver with a sputtering engine," David told The ENQUIRER, as he praised Harrison's mid-air heroics – pulling it all off to avoid crashing into a populated area with homes and busy streets!

Though the airport runway was in eyesight, he knew his plane couldn't cover the required distance.

Harrison then gingerly lowered the nose of the plane "to maintain flyable air speed," according to David, and then – with no other choice – seized upon the open and relatively flat eighth hole fairway at the public golf course to set down the aircraft. "Harrison hit at a fairly steep angle because it pushed the engine off its mount," David said. "But it was a wonderful landing!"

Harrison was transported to a hospital, where he had surgery.

His frazzled wife seemed to have summed up the situation in the immediate aftermath – with a source telling The ENQUIRER that Calista's first words to Harrison were: "You scared the s--t out of all of us today!"

NEIGHBORS AT CRASH SITE LAUD FORD'S FLYING SKILLS

GRATEFUL homeowners are calling Harrison Ford a hero, as they salute the "Star Wars" actor for piloting his failing airplane to a stretch on a Venice golf course!

Brian Raynez lives directly across the street from the golf course – and told The National ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview that plenty of innocent lives could have been lost if Harrison weren't an expert pilot.

"The plane could have crashed into any of our homes," said Brian.

Harrison's heroics paid off, too – since his crash landing was witnessed by a group of golfers that included a top Los Angeles doctor!

AMAZING HEROICS FROM THE ACTUAL 'HAN SOLO!'

HARRISON Ford's flying history keeps proving he might have the superhero powers of the stars he's portrayed on the silver screen!

The National ENQUIRER has learned that the pilot of "Star Wars" fame has frequently used his own aircraft to spread flame retardants from above as a volunteer forest firefighter. Harrison's also piloted his plane in search of hikers who've become lost in the wilderness around his ranch in Wyoming.

In 2000, Harrison was credited for rescuing a mountaineer named Megan Freeman – who'd become overcome by altitude sickness. That same year also had Harrison saving lost Boy Scout Cody Clawson, who had wandered off a trail.

and raced right over – even though he was unsure whether the plane would explode.

The 43-year-old golfer said he found a bloody Harrison “moaning and in pain” – and because he “could smell fuel,” Sanjay quickly directed his golfing buddies to “throw dirt on the leaking fuel so it wouldn’t combust.”

Sanjay and the others lifted Harrison from the plane as rescue workers arrived, adding that the actor was “stunned and moaning” but still conscious.

nized the downed pilot as Han Solo, too.

“I’m old enough, or young enough, to have watched all his ‘Star Wars’ films. [He has] somewhat of an iconic face,” said the father of two.

And now Harrison has lots of new fans who are grateful for his talents offscreen.

“He’s obviously very skilled to have made the landing he did,” Brian told The ENQUIRER – adding that Harrison must “have had angels on his wings to get out of a plane like that!”

– JEN HEGER

A close pal of the action star told The ENQUIRER: “He believes he’s a real-life Han Solo – but his adventurous nature makes us all nervous.”

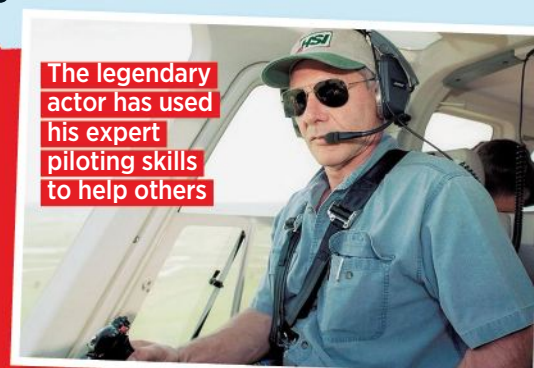

HARRISON HAD already survived other near-death mishaps before this horrific crash in California.

In 1999, he was piloting a Bell 206L4 Jet

Ranger helicopter when it plummeted out of the sky and crashed into a riverbed. The chopper was heavily damaged, but Harrison walked away unscathed.

Another accident came less than a year later, as a wind gust tossed his single-engine plane off of the runway as he touched down to land.

BOBBI KRISTINA'S INNER CIRCLE OF DRUGGIES, DEADBEATS & DO-NOTHINGS!

SPECIAL REPORT So-called pals who fueled her demise

NICK GORDON

Nick, 25, had been in a rocky relationship with Bobbi Kristina, claiming he married her in Jan. 2014. Cops were called for domestic disputes, and neighbors reported seeing them under the influence. Gordon admitted there were drugs in the house when he filed a lawsuit to stop police from seizing surveillance footage. He entered rehab after an "intervention" on Dr. Phil's show on March 6.

PAIGE THOMPSON & ALEXIS NORWOOD

Paige Thompson, left, loved to post photos of her BFFs Gordon and Bobbi Kristina, until police raided her home and found heroin. She is now defending Gordon from behind bars. Alexis Norwood, Paige's daughter, was also busted in 2013 for heroin possession. A nurse who was treating her car-accident-related injuries called the cops after finding a bag of suspected heroin in her bra.

CHELSEA BENNETT

Chelsea Bennett was only 20 years old when she was injected with a lethal dose of pure heroin by one of the two men charged with her murder. She had been close friends with Bobbi Kristina for years. "I love you chels!" Bobbi Kristina posted on Instagram just before Chelsea's untimely death.

THE tragedy of Bobbi Kristina Brown didn't come as a shock to readers of The National ENQUIRER, with numerous articles exposing the downward spiral of her troubled life. That included a seedy circle of pals who were eager to exploit the wealth of Whitney Houston's distraught daughter.

MAX LOMAS

He was an ex of Bobbi Kristina's and was with Gordon when he found her in the tub in her Georgia home on Jan. 31. Weeks earlier, Lomas was in jail on multiple charges after allegedly drugging and holding his girlfriend hostage. In 2011, he got into a wild fight with Gordon and Bobbi Kristina. He repeatedly punched her friend, Justin Walls, in the face, while Gordon waved a Glock 19 handgun in the air.

MASON WHITAKER

Gun collector Mason Whitaker calls himself Gordon's BFF. He has posted several photos of himself with Bobbi Kristina during her drug-addled past few years. The 23-year-old pleaded guilty in 2010 for possession of marijuana and other narcotics with intent to distribute. He was Gordon's passenger last year when Bobbi Kristina's "hubby" lost control of and crashed his BMW in Roswell, Ga.

CORY BEN-HANANIA

Cory Ben-Hanania, 20, will soon face trial for murder for allegedly injecting Bobbi Kristina's pal Chelsea with enough heroin to kill her. He'd coaxed her into being the first to inject the lethal narcotic. Instead of calling 911 after Chelsea overdosed, Ben-Hanania and a friend left her body to be found 10 hours later.

Speaking exclusively to The ENQUIRER, another former member revealed the extent of the clandestine program.

"We installed cameras and microphones in picture frames and in two-way mirrors – it was always different depending on the design of the room," said Marc Headley, who headed the church's in-house studio – dubbed the "Look Listen In" unit – until his 2005 departure.

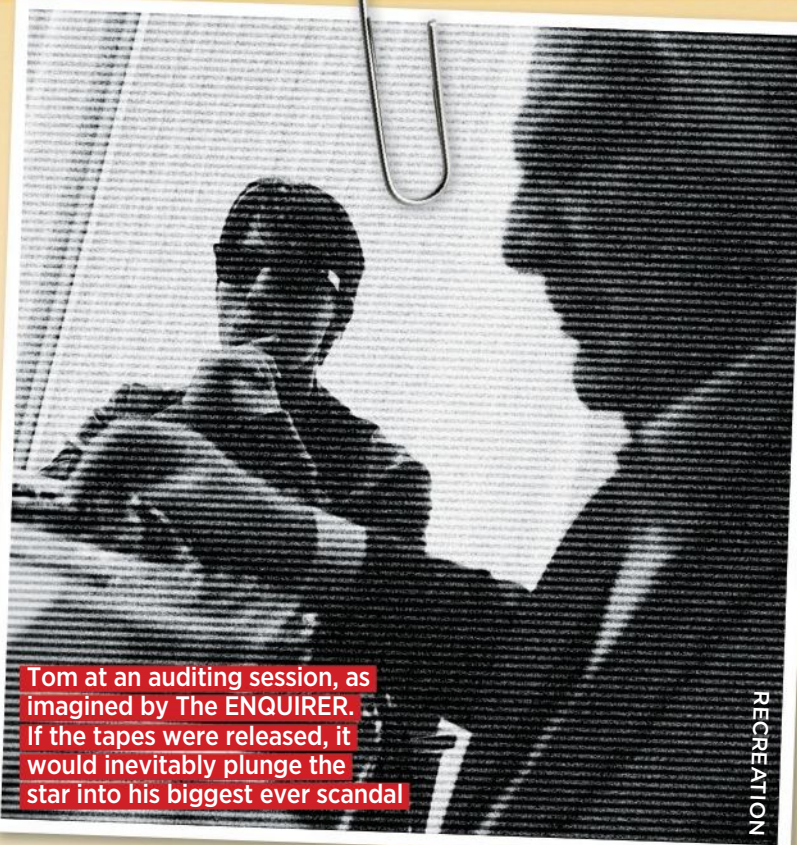

"The cameras and microphones were always blended into the rooms, and it was always a covert camera."

Marc, husband to Claire and a Scientologist since age 7, said he also hid covert cameras in smoke alarms, and used "gum drop" microphones secured beneath a conference room table. "It was 100 percent undetectable," he said.

SCIENTOLOGY representatives deny that Tom's auditing was ever taped.

But those speaking out claimed the counseling sessions were designed to force their highest-profile followers to live in a virtual cage.

Renowned cult expert Steve Hassan – author of "Freedom

Tom at an auditing session, as imagined by The ENQUIRER. If the tapes were released, it would inevitably plunge the star into his biggest ever scandal of Mind: Helping Loved Ones Leave Controlling People, Cults and Beliefs" – told The ENQUIRER he believes the true goal is to get members talking about their sex lives.

"While people are giving all this information to the group, they're being told it's confidential – but history has shown that the material is written down and put in people's folders, and if the leaders don't like you anymore, they will share that information publicly," Steve said.

The church will go to any lengths to stop celebrities like Tom from leaving their ranks, according to former member Tory Christman.

"Millions of people know [celebrities], so it gives [the church] legitimacy," she said.

"They want people saying, 'It can't be that bad if John Travolta and Tom Cruise are in it' – that's why they don't want them to leave."

IF THE surveillance wasn't enough cause for concern, multiple eyewitnesses have said David also openly mocked Tom's intimate secrets!

"David made derogatory comments about confessions," said Claire – adding that he would joke that the actor wasn't "being a good little Scientologist."

What's more, Mark has recalled how David "regularly held court with others ... and while sipping Scotch whiskey at the end of the night, Miscavige would read Tom's overts and withholds from my reports to others, joking and laughing about the content of Tom's confessions."

For its part, the Church of Scientology has insisted that David has never been involved in Tom's personal life and has always "rigorously upheld the sanctity and confidentiality of ministerial communications."

WARREN & ANNETTE FACING A $108M WAR!

WARREN Beatty and Annette Bening were to celebrate their 23rd anniversary on March 12, but pals said a $108 million divorce may be around the corner!

Warren's famous sister, Shirley MacLaine, is trying to play matchmaker and bring him closer to Annette, a source claimed to The National ENQUIRER.

"But it may be too little, too late to save the marriage," said the source, adding that Warren, 77, and Annette, 56, "no longer see eye to eye."

The couple's marriage has unraveled in recent years over their transgender son, Stephen Ira, 23 – the oldest of their four children.

Born a female named Kathlyn, he started transitioning at age 14, but it was kept a family secret until the youth declared himself transgender in a 2012 video. "Stephen Ira's transition has led to a deep division between them," said the source. "It's killed the marriage."

Stephen Ira's gender transition has torn his parents apart

FRIENDS fear Clint Eastwood is headed for a bumpy trail with his new girlfriend, Christina Sanders, who has a violent past. The 84-year-old “Dirty Harry” star’s lover had been arrested for “domestic battery” and had battled alcohol and anger management problems, The National ENQUIRER can exclusively reveal.

“If Christina’s past issues are any indication, Clint could be in for a handful – especially at his age,” a friend said.

While Clint’s lawyer states the couple are not living together, sources said Clint is considering moving the 51-year-old divorcée into the $20 million dream house he and ex-wife Dina Ruiz had built before their 17-year marriage blew up in Oct. 2013.

The couple’s $375 million divorce was finalized last year – about the time he began dating Christina, who had been working as a hostess at the Mission Ranch Inn in Carmel, Calif., which is owned by Clint.

If Christina were to move in, said the friend, it will be “a real test for Christina – and Clint will find out whether she’s marriage material.”

Clint has been married twice,

CLINT’S WILD GAMBLE!

Pals fear for Eastwood if his fiery lover moves in but before his divorce from Dina, he shelled out a whopping $25 million settlement to divorce his first wife, Maggie Johnson.

Now Clint has to deal with the shocking disclosures stemming from Christina’s past marriage – a stormy

Clint might move new girlfriend Christina into the home he and ex-wife Dina bought 11-month relationship that ended in 2003. Police reports disclosed by The ENQUIRER show that eight months before Christina wed Paul Wainscoat, a boozy brawl with him led to her arrest for “domestic battery.” Christina later pleaded no contest.

Police had to break up another fight after they were hitched. Paul didn’t press charges, but claimed Christina punched him and threw a bottle at him. He attributed their problems to her “alcoholism,” but she said in court papers she wasn’t an alcoholic.

“It was hell,” Paul told The ENQUIRER. “I wish Clint all the luck in the world with that woman!” But Christina’s lawyer said it was Paul who was abusive and was the instigator in the incidents that police responded to.

Secret emails expose LOOTING OF LIZ

NEW emails uncovered by The National ENQUIRER provide likely proof that Liz Taylor may have been fleeced by family and associates before and after her death! The missives were revealed by an ENQUIRER probe into the divorce of Liz’s daughter, Maria Burton, and her husband, Thomas McKeown.

Thomas McKeown

The emails show Liz’s beneficiaries vying to keep the division of her estate private, and bribing trustees with a “hold harmless” provision in the event of any litigation.

In divorce papers, Thomas, 60, threatened to reveal how

Liz died broke. The emails show how he tried to get Maria, 54, to drop the suit by vowing to disclose “thievery going on for years.”

The emails also describe a meeting between the Elizabeth Taylor Trust – whose spokesperson said Thomas’ accusations are false – and its beneficiaries who were asked to sign a waiver to prevent financial information from becoming public documents to avoid “embarrassment.”

I understand that I am in no way being required or pressured to sign this Waiver and Release today. I further understand that the Trustees, and many beneficiaries, want to limit the number of copies of the accounting and its attachments that are distributed because of a concern that the accounting will become public

Liz and daughter Maria

I am a beneficiary of the Elizabeth Taylor Trust (the “Trust”). I am attending a meeting to review the Trust’s accounting for the period from August 22, 2014 to August 22, 2015. I have reviewed the accounting and its attachments. I understand that the Trustees, and many beneficiaries, want to limit the number of copies of the accounting and its attachments that are distributed because of a concern that the accounting will become public

RICHIE SAMBORA'S DIRTY SECRET!

He cheated on ex-wife
Heather Locklear
AND Denise Richards

Richie and Nikki's fashion line is touted as a "lifestyle brand"

ROCKER Richie Sambora has been caught in a cheating scandal – after two-timing ex-wife Heather Locklear and on-again, off-again sweetie Denise Richards!

In a bombshell exclusive interview with The National ENQUIRER, a gorgeous blonde business associate of the former Bon Jovi guitarist claims they've been carrying on a longtime affair.

Los Angeles-based Nikki Lund – who founded the "Nikki Rich" fashion line with Richie – said: "It's been going on for eight years. We never went public with it out of respect for his family ... [and] because we wanted people to take our business seriously."

They first hooked up in 2006 when Richie's marriage to Heather – star of "Dynasty," "Spin City" and "Melrose Place" – was crumbling, said Nikki.

At the time, Nikki was an up-and-coming designer, and Richie persuaded a rep to call her to talk fashion.

"The chemistry was there, but I was in a relationship and so was he," Nikki, 32, told The ENQUIRER.

"But it was probably inevitable that things would happen because of that chemistry. [My relationship with him] may have overlapped with others."

A casualty of their affair was not only Heather, but also Heather's best pal Denise, who dated Richie on and off between 2006 and 2012.

Nikki recently hinted at her romance with Richie while doing publicity for their fashion line.

After a giant billboard on Hollywood's Sunset Strip was unveiled, the two were spotted sneaking into the nearby Chateau Marmont hotel.

Later, confronted by Playboy TV, Nikki blurted out: "Richie is great in bed."

Nikki told The ENQUIRER: "Playboy TV put me on the spot. Richie and I were texting, so I asked him what I should say. He said, 'Just tell them I'm good in bed.' So I did."

The disclosures have stung Richie's latest squeeze, blonde beauty Orianthi Panagaris.

"Orianthi is jealous. But the fact is, Nikki has known Richie since he was married to Heather. She's the one constant in his life," a source told The ENQUIRER.

Glen's son sneaks cocaine into the White House

COUNTRY legend Willie Nelson once boasted that he smoked marijuana on the White House roof when Jimmy Carter was in office.

But Glen Campbell's estranged son learned it wasn't a good idea to try and meet up with President Barack Obama – with cocaine in his pocket!

Kane Campbell has battled drug addiction and spent time in prison.

Yet the 46-year-old tried to parlay his status as the son of the "Rhinestone Cowboy" to get a "meet and greet" with the Commander in Chief last summer.

"I told them I was Glen Campbell's son," he told The National ENQUIRER.

"They found I had an outstanding California warrant for a parole violation and patted me down and found [drug] paraphernalia and then found cocaine as well."

After being detained at the front gate of the White House, Kane said he was arrested and taken to a hospital overnight.

A lawyer helped him slip out of trouble and the charges against him were dropped.

His dad, who he hasn't seen in years, has been battling Alzheimer's disease since 2011, and in March 2014, the singer moved into a special care facility.

"It was a stupid idea to go to the White House with drugs," added Kane.

"You can bet I won't be doing that again."

REVEALED: BOB HOPE NEVER MARRIED HIS 'WIFE' DOLORES

COUGAR JUDI!

Her new love's nearly 10 years younger than her

DAME Judi Dench, 80, star of "The Second Best Marigold Hotel," has found love after loss with a dashing and much younger man, 71-year-old British conservationist David Mills.

The dazzling dame, a member of the Order of the British Empire, suffered a heartbreaking loss when her actor husband of 30 years, Michael Williams, succumbed to lung cancer in 2001. "Judi was crushed," an insider told The National ENQUIRER. "She thought her days of romance and fun were over.

"Since falling for David, Judi has a new spring in her step. Her friends and family are thrilled that she's found a man who takes such good care of her.

"David treats Judi like a queen, and he helped her heal from the heartbreak of Michael's death," the source added.

The legendary actress shows no signs of slowing down, despite losing much of her eyesight to macular degeneration, which makes reading scripts difficult. She's back on the big screen in the sequel to 2011's "The Best Exotic Marigold Hotel."

"Falling in love with David took Judi by complete surprise, and he's given her a new lease on life," the source divulged.

"She loves to joke with friends that they should now call her 'Dame Cougar Dench!'"

The two met in 2010 when David asked Judi to help open a badger enclosure at the British Wildlife Centre.

Despite their strong bond, Judi revealed that she and David do not live together. "We are much too independent," she has said.

"But he is so lovely, with a great sense of humor. Now it's absolutely wonderful because there's somebody who makes me laugh."

"Judi is living proof that passionate romance isn't just a young person's game," the source added.

WAS Bob Hope a bigamist? A blockbuster new biography contains the shocking revelation that the comic legend either had two wives – or was never legally married to his beloved Dolores!

Bob passed away at the age of 100 in July 2003, leaving behind an estate that might have been worth as much as $1 billion. In "Hope: Entertainer of the Century," biographer Richard Zoglin questioned Bob's legendary marriage to Dolores.

Richard noted that Bob was often vague about the date and place of his marriage, and "some family members suspected the marriage may never have taken place at all." He adds that previous biographical material has the couple marrying on Feb. 19, 1934 – "in, of all places, Erie, Pennsylvania."

In fact, said Richard, "at that time [Bob] was still married to his first wife and vaudeville partner, Louise Troxell. I found divorce papers for Bob and Louise dated November 1934, so either Bob Hope was a bigamist or he lied about marrying Dolores in February that year."

The author said no marriage license or wedding announcement for Bob and Dolores has ever turned up.

The couple had adopted four children together. Dolores died in 2011 at age 102.

THE BEST SOURCE FOR COINS WORLDWIDE™

YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. STUART FISCHER, GIA PORTFOLIO & LAURIE MILLER

ERIN GO HEALTHY!

NOBODY says you have to celebrate St. Paddy's Day by drinking yourself into a coma! There are plenty of healthy options. "Pistachios are a great-tasting pantry staple, as they are one of the lowest-calorie, lowest-fat snack nuts available," said Katie Cavuto, MS, RD, Culinary Nutritionist and Dietician for the Philadelphia Phillies. Each one-ounce serving provides six grams of protein. Here are some other "green" treats to keep your Irish eyes smiling: Kiwi smoothies, minted pea mash, green tomato mozzarella sticks, and crispy green beans with pesto. You'll turn your snack bowl into a nutritional pot of gold with any of these healthy seasonal snacks!

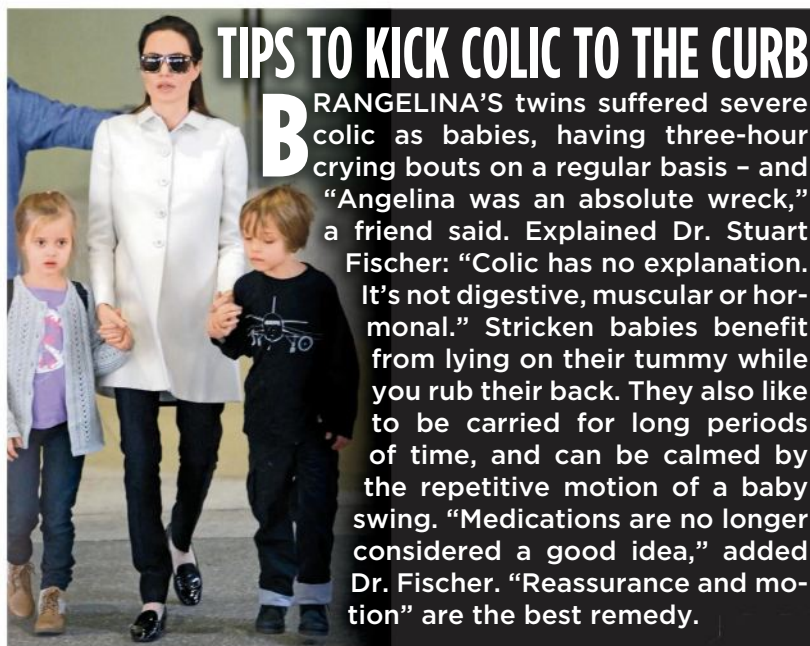

BEAT THE INCREDIBLE BULK

IT'S great to load up on low-priced food ... but the end result may be a little too heavy for your bottom line! Buying food in bulk may be turning your body into an expanded storage unit. Cheaper, calorie-rich food in bigger portions – as found in warehouse stores – are the leading culprits. "Having more food around tends to make people eat more," said Charles Courtemanche, a health economist at Georgia State University. So save pounds AND dollars by planning meal purchases in advance and make sure to avoid impulse buys!

STRATEGIES TO SMILE ABOUT!

WHITEN your smile naturally: Smokers and coffee drinkers tend to have stained teeth, so cut out the bad habits. Use fruits and veggies as natural cleaners – they're naturally abrasive and scrub the stains off teeth, while producing saliva that prevents staining. And cheese has vitamins that make enamel stronger!

TIPS TO KICK COLIC TO THE CURB

B RANGELINA'S twins suffered severe colic as babies, having three-hour crying bouts on a regular basis – and "Angelina was an absolute wreck," a friend said. Explained Dr. Stuart Fischer: "Colic has no explanation. It's not digestive, muscular or hormonal." Stricken babies benefit from lying on their tummy while you rub their back. They also like to be carried for long periods of time, and can be calmed by the repetitive motion of a baby swing. "Medications are no longer considered a good idea," added Dr. Fischer. "Reassurance and motion" are the best remedy.

NOW HEAR THIS!

NOISE-induced hearing loss affects about 15 percent of Americans between the ages of 20 and 69. Some damage is preventable, though. If you participate in loud activities, use earplugs. Cigarettes are linked to hearing loss, so there's another reason not to smoke. Remove earwax regularly, but don't use cotton swabs. They push it further into your ears! And Dr. Fischer added: "Pain medications like aspirin and ibuprofen can affect positive hearing."

J.LO'S BETTER BODY SECRET

AS stunning at 45 as she was at 20, J.Lo credits hard work and good nutrition to her eternal beauty. Now she's sharing her new line of nutritional products by BodyLab! Jennifer's put her name to fat-burners, protein shakes and 7-day detox kits that can get any woman on track. "Men and women's body chemistry is different, but most of the supplements on the market are designed for men," she said. "I was determined to create products for women, by women." Get in line, ladies! Available at BodyLab.com, Walmart and other major retailers, starting from $22.

FASTIN®

HI-TECH's Most Advanced Weight Management Aids Ever Developed!†

The Fastin Family of Weight Loss and Energy Aids are the top selling diet aids in the country for one reason...They Work!!! (Fastin®, Fastin®-XR (Extended Release), and Fastin®-RR (Rapid Release) are based upon Hi-Tech's Exclusive, Clinically-Studied, Phenylethylamine Alkaloids derived from Acacia Rigidula (Thermo-Rx®). The findings from Hi-Tech's randomized, double-blind, placebo controlled study showed convincingly that Acacia Rigidula promotes significant increases in Resting Energy Expenditure (Metabolism)(12%+) still evident 3 hrs post ingestion. The clinical study on Thermo-Rx® showed an astounding increase in resting metabolic rate that was superior to the findings of previous studies which reported that 10 to 30mg ephedrine-once believed to be the Gold Standard of Weight Loss compounds- increased energy expenditure by 6.6% to 10% (Versus 12%+ Acacia).

CLINICALLY PROVEN WEIGHT LOSS PRODUCTS!

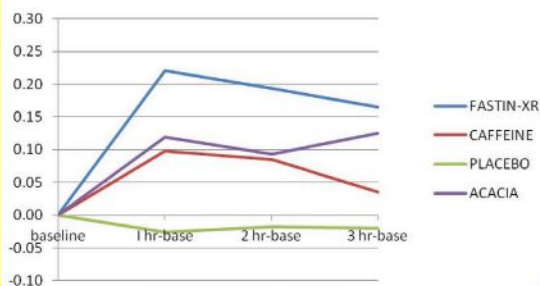

The powerful Fastin®-XR and Fastin®-RR weight loss formulas have been clinically proven in multiple clinical studies to provide effective increases in Metabolism and see the results below of an 8 week Groundbreaking double-blind, placebo controlled study on Fastin Rapid Release!

- Fastin®-RR users lost 208% more weight than placebo and 167% more than the Caffeine group!
- Fastin®-XR was shown to elevate Energy Expenditure (Metabolism) 371% when compared against Caffeine at 3hrs post ingestion and 871% over Placebo at its highest point.
- Fastin®-RR users saw an Incredible 16.6 % increase in Resting Energy Expenditure (Metabolism) over the first 3 hours with an increase of over 14.5% in Energy Uptake over the entire 6 hours!

In this landmark study Fastin®-RR (Rapid Release Caplets) also showed a 5,425% increase in Metabolism within 45 minutes of consumption versus Placebo and 251% versus 300mg of Caffeine, which is 50% above the maximum legal dosage for OTC drugs. These findings also indicate that Fastin®-RR produced significantly greater levels of fat oxidation!†

CRYPTOGRAM QUOTES FAMOUS QUOTES FROM YOUR FAVORITE PEOPLE

Cryptograms are coded messages. To solve the Cryptogram, each coded letter must be replaced by the answer letter in the box overhead. When you solve the code for a letter, write the answer letter in the box everywhere the coded letter appears. Look for common words and letter patterns to break the code. Words like AND, I, THE and A are found frequently. Common word endings are ING, S and E.

Talk Show Doctor Reveals Digestion Remedy That Works Instantly!

Television host and best selling author explains how a new aloe-vera extract can make bouts of heartburn, acid-reflux, constipation, gas, bloating, diarrhea, and other stomach nightmares disappear!

Recently an alternative medicine expert and a frequent guest on the Dr. Oz show, revealed a simple secret that amazed millions who suffer with digestion nightmares. People haven't stopped talking about it since.

"I'd give anything to make it stop!"

That's what most people will say about their digestive problems. "It's just horrible says Ralph Burns, a former digestion victim. I was tortured for years by my Acid-Reflux. My wife suffers with digestion problems too. If she eats one wrong thing, she spends hours stuck in the bathroom dealing with severe bouts of constipation or diarrhea."

FDA Warns About Popular Antacids

A recent FDA warning explained that excessive use of antacids could lead to an increased risk of hip, wrist, and spine fractures. Especially in people over the age of 50.

So when an alternative was discussed on National TV, you can imagine how thrilled people were to find out they could finally get relief without having to rely on pharmaceutical proton pump inhibitors. But now, according to Dr. Liza Leal, M.D & Chief Medical Officer at Meridian Medical, your stomach problems could be over by simply drinking a small amount of a tasty Aloe Vera extract every day. It's as simple as that!

Finally There's Hope...

At first, the thought of drinking aloe vera might make some people back away, But in fact, this delicious "digestion cocktail" is doing amazing things for people who suffer with digestive problems — even if they've had them for years. Here's how it works...

Stop Stomach Indigestion

Your stomach naturally produces acid so strong, it can dissolve an aluminum spoon in just 30 minutes! And when excess acid escapes into your esophagus, throat and stomach lining, it unleashes the discomfort of Acid-Reflux, heartburn, ulcers and more misery. Add the problems of stress, and "all hell breaks loose."

Dr. Liza Leal, a well known expert on chronic pain management explains... "AloeCure" can work genuine miracles. It buffers high acid levels with amazing speed, so your stomach feels completely at ease just moments after drinking it." In fact, it could wipe out stomach discomfort and frantic runs to the bathroom.

"I'm always in 'indigestion hell'. Doctors put me on all sorts of antacid remedies. Nothing worked. One day a friend said, 'Why don't you try AloeCure'."

I was shocked! It tasted pretty good! I stopped taking the PPIs altogether and replaced it with a daily diet of AloeCure®. Then something remarkable happened - NOTHING! Not even the slightest hint of indigestion. For the first time in 40 years I didn't need pills or tablets to avoid indigestion. Thank you AloeCure®

- Ralph Burns

Until Now, Little Could Be Done...

But "AloeCure" can help virtually anyone. Even people with chronic stomach discomfort can start to feel better right away," says Dr. Leal. And what's really exciting is AloeCure® aids in keeping your digestive tract healthy, so with regular use intestinal distress stops coming back.

Digestion Defender #1: Balances Stomach Acid: Your first line of defense is calcium malate. This natural acid buffer instantly sends stomach acid levels plunging. And holds acid levels down so they are not likely to return!

Digestion Defender #2: Instant, Soothing Relief: AloeCure® is brimming with polysaccharides, a "wonder" compound that gently coats the throat, esophagus and stomach, carrying instant relief to cells scorched by excess acid.

Doctor recommended AloeCure® may be the most important application ever discovered for digestive health!

Here's What Doctors Are Saying!

AloeCure® is backed by important scientific studies that confirm... aloe calms stomach acid and allows your body to heal itself.

Dr. Liza Leal, M.D & Chief Medical Officer at Meridian Medical, says, "That's why I recommend it to patients who suffer from bouts of heartburn, Acid-Reflux, ulcers, and irritable bowel syndrome..."

Dr. Santiago Rodriguez agrees. "Just two ounces of AloeCure® reduces the acids in your stomach by ten times."

AloeCure® may be the most important application ever discovered for digestive health!

Safe And Easy To Use

With no sugar, no stimulants, and zero calories, AloeCure® is safe, all-natural and has absolutely no side effects. Just drink two ounces, once in the morning, and once at night, and start enjoying immediate life-changing relief!

Try It 100% Risk-Free!

The makers of AloeCure® have agreed to send you up to 6 FREE bottles PLUS 2 free bonus gifts with your order— they're yours to keep no matter what. That's enough AloeCure® for 30 days of powerful digestive relief, absolutely free! But hurry! This is a special introductory offer, reserved for our readers only. But you must call now!

HOW TO PLAY

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

LETTER OF THE WEEK

Cosmetic ingredients to avoid

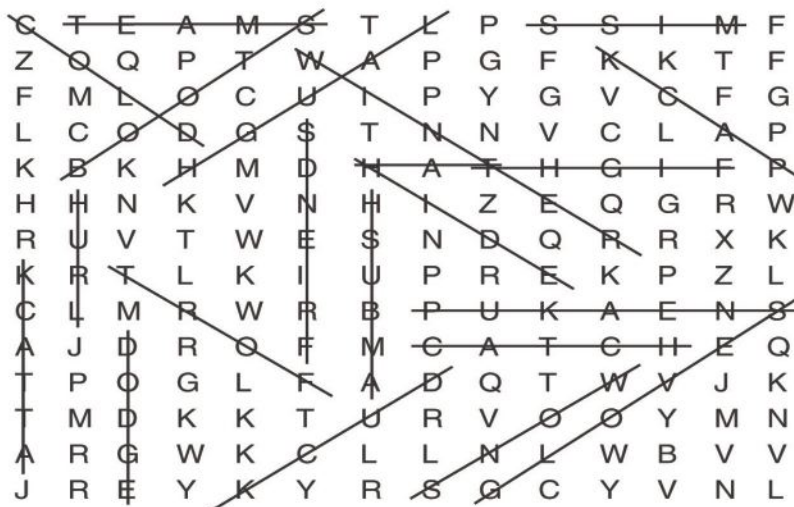

I was having a lot of unusual problems with my face breaking out and couldn't understand why. Then I read your health column about anti-aging creams [Feb. 23]. I looked at the ingredients list on my jar of cream and sure enough, there was "methylparaben." I threw it out and can't thank you enough for the information!

BEWARE THE FLYING WEASEL!

THE ODD LIST

Crafty creature tries to kill a woodpecker, but the plucky bird manages to escape!

YOU'LL still have to wait to see pigs fly, but a weasel was photographed riding on the back of a green woodpecker as it soared through the air in a London park.

"I heard a distressed squawking noise and feared the worst," said Martin Le-May, who was walking with his wife, Ann, in Hornchurch Country Park.

The quick-thinking photographer looked up and captured the unique image – one that has since gone viral on the Internet.

Of course the feisty little weasel was not actually riding the bird – she was trying to eat it!

"Weasels normally attack rabbits. The woodpecker is not its usual prey," explained wildlife expert Lucy Cooke.

"But weasels are fearless. A female weasel weighs less than a candy bar but is as ferocious as a lion, so this is why the woodpecker would have been able to take off with it on its back."

On top goes the weasel: The hasty photographer captured these shocking photos on March 2

Martin said the bizarre pair got about 10 feet off the ground before landing, then the bird managed to free itself and avoid becoming lunch.

Neither creature was noticeably hurt.

"I think we may have distracted the weasel. The woodpecker left with its life. The weasel just disappeared into the long grass – hungry," Martin explained.

British TV wildlife presenter Steve

Backshall likened the woodpecker's feat of strength to that of other small animals, such as leafcutter ants and rhino beetles, which can carry up to 850 times their own body weight.

"The weasel is pretty fascinating," Steve said. "It can kill things much bigger than itself, so it's an impressive little creature when you think about its size."

And that's how the "weaselpicker" hopped aboard this week's Odd List!

Let's do some snackin' math. For the same calories, you get a lot more pistachios than flavored tortilla chips. Plus, pistachios are a good source of protein and fiber, and heart-friendly. And, a recent Harvard study suggests eating nuts seven times a week or more is as healthy as it is smart. So next time you grab a snack, use your brains. Your backside will thank you for it.

Scientific evidence suggests but does not prove that eating 1.5 ounces per day of most nuts, such as pistachios, as part of a diet low in saturated fat and cholesterol may reduce the risk of heart disease.
